

Washington State Department of Agriculture helps fund multiple Seattle food banks, including the Polack Food Bank, with a $272,646 grant.

Contact: Washington State Department of Agriculture
Food Safety and Consumer Services Division
Attn: Kim Eads
Food Assistance Programs Manager
PO Box 42560
Olympia, WA 98504-2560

Or

Kim Eads at foodassistance@agr.wa.gov

Dear Kim Eads,

Thank you for the $272,646 Emergency Food Assistance Program grant that helps fund vital food banks in Washington, including Jewish Family Service's Polack Food Bank in Seattle.

The EFAP grant helps Jewish Family Service provide healthy food to vulnerable individuals and families of all backgrounds throughout the Puget Sound Region. With EFAP, the Polack Food Bank is able to purchase bulk foods, such as grains and beans, for those in need.

This grant makes a crucial difference in the well-being, health and stability of my community.

Thank you,
Your signature here.